May Enter Contest for Dominion House in Medicine Hat Riding

Liberals of the Medicine Hat federal constituency have approached Hon. Arch. McLean, ministerial secretary, and Mr. McLean, provincial secretary of Alberta, with a view of his adoption as the candidate of the party in the forthcoming Dominion elections. Mr. McLean is regarded as the strongest candidate that the Liberals of the south could possibly bring out to contest the seat secured at the last general election by a large plurality by C. A. Maugh.

city, and Mr. McLean is in the south, and he has not expressed an opinion as to the course which he is likely to take. Should he prefer to remain in the provincial cabinet, it is a practical certainty that W. A. Buchanan, editor and proprietor of the Lethbridge Herald will contest the constituency, and in either event a provincial assembly for Lethbridge city, and Mr. McLean, who is one of the largest ranchers in the south country, is member for Lethbridge district. He was returned in 1906, and appointed to cabinet rank upon the advent to power of Premier Sifton.

WINNIPEG BASEBALL CLUB LEAVES THE W. C. LEAGUE

Team Has Been Recalled from Moose Jaw and Will Disband Immediately—Brandon Management Has Not Decided Course of Action

A wire has been received by the Capital from President Eckstorm stating that he has wired Winnipeg for official notice of their withdrawal from the league. He further states that when he receives this notice he will instruct the team to report at Calgary to play out the schedule under league management on Monday. The franchise will become the property of the league. If the players fail to do this they will be blacklisted by the National commission and not allowed to play organized hall until reinstated.

(Special to the Capital)

Winnipeg, Aug. 5.—No answer having come from President Eekstrom to the ultimatum sent last night President Blackburn this morning announced that their team would be reelected from Moose Jaw and disband. A wire has been sent giving them the necessary

Team Ordered Home
MOOSE JAW, Aug. 5.—The Winnipeg team this morning received instructions from President Blackburn to withdraw their games this afternoon and evening and return to Winnipeg at once. The players are incensed over the action of the management of the club. The Moose Jaw team will play with the game.

Brandon Has Not Decided
BRANDON, Aug. 5.—The Brandon team thinks the best thing to do would be to divide the schedule in the same way as last year awarding Moose Jaw the championship of the first half and drawing up a new schedule for the second half. The players of the city are in favor of with Moose Jaw at the end of the season for the pennant. It would be the most satisfactory way of finishing the season. Interest would be stimulated and all the teams get an equal Saskatoon, Aug. 5.—The Brandon team has received no instruction as to playing or not playing the games this afternoon. They will be played unless instructions are received to the contrary before there o'clock. Saskatoon team will continue in the league.

Calgary Will Stick

Calgary, Aug. 5. — President Sam Savase when he this morning was informed that the 'Peg team had made good their threat and quit applied to them such terms as quitters and swelled heads. He says the Calgary team will stay with the game.

No word has been received from Brandon regarding their action.

Will Not Affect Edmonton
The dropping out of the Winnipeg team did not affect the position the Edmonton club has taken on the matter of the present crisis in the Western Canada league said Frank Grey president of the local club. Mr. Grey is glad they have quit as it will tear up the baseball atmosphere and the league will now be able to go ahead and finish the schedule in a way satisfactory to the four teams remaining. The Edmonton team will stick to the last ball is thrown. Winnipeg has been looking

Locals of the United Farmers of Alberta in the Edmonton constituency will hold a meeting in the exhibition offices on Monday afternoon to consider the local political situation. Whether they will run an independent candidate

The Eskimos will continue to play all the games that can be arranged was endorse a party candidate or abstain from participation in the conflict as a body is a matter of uncertainty, and at the last meeting of the farmers of the district, great divergence of opinion was manifested.

Rumored Bouillon Is To Enter Campaign

Thomas Bellamy Will Be Nominated for Alderman Monday —Bouillonites Have Not Selected Representative as Yet—Ex-Commissioner to Go on the Platform.

Monday will tell the tale whether the municipal big election is to be by acclamation or whether it is to be actively an affair as has been wont to be experienced. Thomas Bellamy will be nominated Monday for the seat upon the city council vacated by Alderman J. H. McKinley. Whether or not Mr. Bellamy will be elected will help him back into the seat from which he was ousted.

J. H. McKinley. And the same gossip says that he will be nominated on Monday.

The gossip goes that the Boulton clique intends to make considerable headway from the platform next week and that no less distinguished an individual than the bone of contention himself, J. H. McKinley, will be used on the platform as a drawing card.

It is an open secret that in the event which he has resigned is a question which the gentleman himself has been unable to answer during the present week.

Political gossip has it that if there is a Bouillon candidate at all it will be a Bouillon candidate is nominated, that the anti-Bouillon constituency will conduct a rip-roaring campaign throughout the entire week, beginning Tuesday evening, and never omitting one night.

MAY APPOINT A FOOD INSPECTOR

Health Officer Can Appoint Official, But Cannot Authorize Salary Payment

After the bye election, the gas franchise election, the medical association meeting, the exposition and other things that are demanding the attention of public men in public affairs, it is expected that provisions will be made for the appointment of a food inspector for the city. It is not necessary to make provisions for his appointment but it is necessary to make provisions for the payment of his salary. The new health regulations empower Dr. Whitelaw, health officer, to arbitrarily name a food inspector, should he so desire. But there is no provision for the payment of the salary of the appointee and he upon whom honor was thus thrust would decline with thanks.

Nevertheless since Abernethy Gowen had some foodstuff delivered at his house in a condition that caused him to go without his noonday meal, Dr. Whitelaw has confident hopes of being

The flieu and the jabot continue to dominate the neckwear situation in the shops. Table after table is piled with are to be picked up now in graceful fluffs whiteness and amazing bargains felices and the one-sided coat-trills which are so smart.

The sailor collar, made of sheer lawn or organdy worn by a widow. The regulation four-in-hand tie in all the new colors of silk and other materials is worn with the linen collar and strictly tailored shirtwaist this season. These ties are also tied with a hose knot caught by a colored silk ring.

Silk and satin bows in combination with white lace are popular. Black satin and white lace, or satin of color and lace are in many attractive forms. Novelties in the form of flowers and fruit are worn at the base of the high collar to give an effective touch of color. Black velvet is the favored foundation for these little novelties, and the bows or fruit of the velvet are attached to it or are arranged in dancing form.

Tailored stocks and jabots are made from both white and colored handkerchiefs, to be worn with a colored collar or a collar with a touch of color matching the jabot. Cut off a small corner from each handkerchief to make a tiny bow at the top. Use the three-cornered sections of both handkerchiefs to form ends of the jabot.

Small hats, with the sugar loaf model at the leader, are expected to be fashionable this autumn.

BONDS STOLEN ON RAILWAY TRAIN

Sum of $50,000 Packed Away in Hat Box Makes Mysterious Exit.

(International News Service)

Paris, Aug. 5.—Bonds to the value of $50,000 which a wealthy widow had packed away with her bonnets in a hat-box for greater security have been stolen on the railway between Taries and Saint Girons in the south of France.

The widow got out of the train at Montreuil to lunch at the buffet and left her luggage, including the hat-box containing her securities, in the carriage. She did not hear the passenger bell, and the train went off with her luggage, leaving her behind. On the widow claiming her luggage, she found that the hat-box had been opened, and although the bonnets were still there her securities had vanished.

FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, Aug. 5.—Although the women in Paris have taken up the little coat with enthusiasm, as one of the most charming features of this summer's fashions, it is a remarkable fact that these little coats have found but few friends in this country so far. It is true, some of the importing houses here are displaying a few charming models of such coats and here, and there one may see a woman wearing one, but in Paris they are all the rage, and deservedly so.

The prominent French designers, who have shown some of the handsomest models of such coats do not view the little coats to be considered separate coats. For that reason they reject the color or trimming of the coat somewhere about the neck, very lightly, perhaps, very modestly, but thoroughly enough to link the component parts of the costume into one homogeneous whole. Yet, this is not always the case, and the thrifty and clever woman may make her piquant little coat do duty more than one costume if she wishes.

Broderie anglaise is a popular mater for the short coat, and in them the case, as the French call the fine handkerchief linen to distinguish it from the color or trimming of the coat somewhere about the neck, very lightly, perhaps, very modestly, but
thoroughly enough to link the component
parts of the costume into one homogeneous whole.

Each under short semi-transparent materials of color or black this popular embroidery is to be seen on all kinds of frocks. Its bold, openwork design showing charmingly through the cloudy veiling. Bands of the open work embroidery trim silk, marquisette, chiffon, linen, tulle, and every material, and it is combined with the finest and the heaviest of laces.

Short coats are formed of lace, as well as of embroidery, though the lace is more often used in combination with embroidery than alone, and the coat, entirely of lace, seldom has the catch-ed at the little silk coat. The collars of lace or embroidered muslin almost hide some of the little silk coats. A short tulle vesting, with a coat of the ta-feta, bordered in bonhomie sand sporting a big fluff of flat, overlapping pointed edge and embroidered muslin flounces had a tulle of the tulle over an undershirt of the overlapping embroidery flounces.

The very short bodystyle coat, bellotted just below the bust line and with a little fluff falling below the girth, was introduced among the first of the short coats and is still greatly liked. The kind is noticeable in the late summer trousers and produces some odd effects as well as some very delightful results.
With the lowering of the modish waist line this bodystyle arrangement naturally assumes a Russian blouse character.
The Russian blouse will be here again and, this has given rise to a rumor that in the autumn, at all events, bellotted coats of one kind or another are fairly sure to find a place among fall modes.

Directoire coats cut squarely away at the high waist line in front and falling in a long, straight panel or coat tail in the back are made up without trimming other than big soft fluffs of fine muslin or net bordered by fine frills and frills of the same sheer material finishing the half-length sleeves.

Black and white are still greatly worn in spite of the outcry about their over-popularity, and the frocks in this coloring are often the prettiest seen at smart functions. There has been a fad for sheer white over black as a change from the line adorned sheer black over white, and several of the great dressmakers have had considerable stress upon this arrangement.

Practically all lineries now is built on the simplest lines, so that the narrow lines of the frock may not be interfered with, and many dressmakers advise corsets that lace in front because of the attractiveness and plainness of skirts at the back. Many women, however, dislike the front-facing corset. New corsets are very low at the top, to give a low-busted figure, but at the lower edge the material is built down to keep the hips in subjection.

The very newest notion in lineries is the nighttime embroidered in color, and some of these little gowns are exceedingly dainty. The ribbon, run through the embroidered crests, of course, matches the embroidery in tints. A pretty little French robe de nuit seen the other day had a yoke and sleeve sleeves of pink mull, scalloped and embroidered by hand, the scallop being faced together down the

BUSINESS FIRMS PAY HEAVY TAXES

Corporations in Five States Contribute Heavily to Upkeep of Country.

(International News Service)
Washington, D.C., Aug. 5.—Business concerns in the five states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin paid corporation taxes aggregating $10,965,000 for the fiscal year of 1910, according to a report issued by the Commissioner of Corporations. Herbert Knox Smith, made public today.

Those in Michigan contributed the heaviest lot, the figures being $5,100,000. The sum of $5,260,000 was collected in Ohio and $1,560,000 in Wisconsin. Corporations in Illinois paid $2,120,000 and those in Indiana, paid $1,125,000.

The report made public today is the first of its kind. It is the first of its kind which, it is out to say, will embrace corporate taxes paid in all the states of the Union. The report deals with the system of corporate taxation in vogue in the various states and is made in accordance with the federal law creating a bureau of corporations.

Mr. Smith, in submitting the report to President Taft, briefly stated facts relative to tax laws and constitutional restrictions, but made no comments on recommendations.

Taxes Collected
The total taxes collected by the states for 1910 and the percentage of the collections from corporations were set forth as follows:

Ruins of Roman Villa Found Near Rome—Horace's Sabine Farm.

(International News Service)
Rome, Aug. 5.—An interesting archaeological discovery of what is believed to have been Horace's Sabine villa has been made in the neighborhood of Perelle, in the Sabine Hills. Some peasants, while digging came across mosaic pavements, and Count Negri was sent by the government to inspect the discovery. Count Negri came to the conclusion that the remains are of a Roman villa of the early Augustan period. The ruins are situated on one bank of the little river Licenza, and the "fons Bandusiae" to which one of Horace's odes is dedicated. Count Negri believes that he has discovered Horace's Sabine farm, the situation of which has always been in doubt among archaeologists. Further excavations are being carried on.
